

Collinearity weakens individual attribution, not the joint stellar-structure signal

A. Collinear stellar variables redistribute coefficient attribution

B. Paired coefficient shifts

Temperature, radius, and stellar mass trace the same stellar sequence. Coefficients are ridge-regularized; bootstrap resamples preserve total fitting weight so regularization strength is constant.